

ABOUT CSRT

Since 1978, Cooper Spur Race Team has provided our community with a program designed to develop youth ski racing. CSRT offers an ideal program for children of all ages who want to become expert, all-mountain, and life long skiers, while having fun and learning to compete.

CSRT's coaching staff is dedicated to helping racers at all levels achieve their ski racing goals. However, excellence in skiing and competition is only part of our mission. Our programs help youth develop important life skills and values such as cooperation, teamwork, positive attitude, honesty, and dedication. We also pride ourselves in producing some of the top racers in the Pacific Northwest.

CSRT is not owned or operated by Cooper Spur Ski Area. We are an independent entity who conducts its programs at the resort and is supported by the ski area with grooming services, storage facilities, and trail closures for racing. CSRT is a non-profit 501 (c)(3) volunteer organization comprised of racers, their parents, coaches, and alumni. Program fees pay for approximately 60% of our expenditures. The remainder of our budget depends entirely upon fund raising activities, donations and local business sponsorships.

CSRT has an average of 85 participants per season. CSRT hosts 3 major ski events each year at Cooper Spur Ski Area or Mt Hood Meadows, drawing over 250 competitors and their families from all over the Pacific Northwest region. These events are the annual Cooper Camp in December, the Diamond Dual SL Race and the Jack Baldwin SL race. CSRT also does 3 fundraisers annually including the Ski a thon, holiday wreath sales, and the Caskino Night silent auction event.

SPONSORSHIP

Business and corporate sponsors are critical in helping Cooper Spur Race Team achieve its mission to create athletes that are competitive at all ski racing levels. The generosity of our sponsors keeps program fees at accessible levels for all athletes in our community. Fees paid by participants only partially cover the costs of the coaching staff. Additional funds are needed and are essential to every aspect of our program from racing and timing equipment to providing athletic scholarships. Your sponsorship of CSRT would provide you with an exceptional access to a large target market of active outdoor oriented consumers. Most importantly, as a sponsor of CSRT you make it possible for our youth to enjoy a fun and healthy activity at affordable prices. All donations are tax deductible.
